

SYMPHONY™ LABORATORY INFORMATION EXCHANGE

Ascendant Medical Laboratory offers Symphony, a laboratory information exchange that provides an easy, secure and flexible method for ordering tests and retrieving reports. Symphony is a personal diagnostic interface (PDI) that utilizes proprietary technology to enhance client's connectivity to Ascendant's laboratory information system (LIS). It also allows for seamless connection to Ascendant's parent company Molecular Pathology Laboratory Network, Inc. and its molecular diagnostic information system, MPLNet.

Clients can choose the option(s) they prefer for ordering tests and for retrieving reports. Symphony's functions include:

Web Ordering / Reporting PDI

Molecular diagnostic and clinical testing can be ordered simultaneously and reports retrieved through the same interface.

Multi-center set up

- Symphony's web-based system can be set up per user or office location
- Physicians can access reports securely from anywhere with an internet capable computer

Reduces turnaround time

Provides detailed reports in real time upon report release.

Easy, secure ordering

Allows clients to order laboratory tests and securely input patient insurance information online.

Automatic Report Delivery

Symphony also offers on-demand report printing customized for each client's schedule. This self-installed desktop application accesses the internet to download reports and print to a PostScript printer without user intervention.

Easy automated reporting

Symphony's Report Delivery replaces conventional fax delivery of reports.

Secure operation

Complies with HIPAA regulations and securely delivers reports to a designated printer.

Easy set up

Total self installation of Symphony takes less than 10 minutes. Simply load the software CD and:

1. Provide user information.
2. Select a printer for report delivery.
3. Identify frequency for reports to be printed.

That's it! Clients can easily change report delivery details any time through Symphony's event manager function.
